

Preface

This volume encloses peer-reviewed papers rigorously selected based on the research topics and quality of the scientific results. The special issue reflects a wide range of scientific research results and engineering solutions in applied materials for the sustainability of economic growth - special materials for electronics and electrical engineering, functional nanomaterials, polymers, composites, building materials, and technologies of ecology safety assessment.

Editor
Chafic-Touma Salame
Auday Shaban
European Academy for Sustainable Development